Michael, a grade 11 student at Or Chaim and his team, built a safe using simple materials and a locking mechanism operating on the principles of physics. The safe must be openable in less than five minutes, but must keep opponents stumped for at least ten minutes. Teams were scored by a panel of referees, not only for being crack-proof, but also for aesthetics and originality. Michael and his teams will travel to Israel in the Spring to compete internationally.
